The more people you manage, the more chances you have for communication and other breakdowns that can negatively impact your customers and your business. In today's competitive environment, staying in touch with all the key players while finding ways to reduce costs is the bottom line. You've worked hard to build your business and you should be proud. However, do you have the time to really enjoy your success or is your day (who are we kidding, your life) overscheduled right now?

Just imagine all the time and energy you could save by holding management meetings, training webinars, sales meetings, press conferences and much more from the comfort of your office or home.

Connex gets the big picture and we work with you to develop convenient, cost-effective solutions that really work.

ConnexPresents LIVE Web Service

ConnexPresents LIVE powered by Microsoft® Live Meeting makes it easy to work with colleagues, customers, and partners no matter where you are. Kick off a project, brainstorm ideas, edit files, collaborate or negotiate deals without the cost and hassle of travel.

This powerful web conferencing service helps your company to conduct effective online meetings either on demand or with an event—it's your choice.

- › Schedule and Manage — Easily integrates with familiar office tools such as Outlook, Word, Excel, PowerPoint and SharePoint.
- › Presentations — Multiple presenters can display high-resolution, PowerPoint slides with animations to better engage your audience.
- › Application Sharing — Share a window, an application, or your desktop and edit any document for true realtime collaboration.
- › Interact via chat , Q&A and Polling Sessions — Get feedback instantly.
- › Record and Replay — Your complete program is available for replay via an easy to access file, for those who were unable to attend your event to be sure they receive the same information or message.
